Questions:

If elected I will continue to bring questions from individual clergy to Synod (regardless of whether I agree with the questioner).

I am a longstanding parish priest in the Diocese and it has been my privilege to serve on the General Synod since 2015. I am re-standing as a 'TOGETHER' candidate, committed to the Church of England welcoming and celebrating all people.

We face some very difficult and divisive issues over the next five years. I bring experience, excellent communication skills and commitment to the mission of our broad church to reflect the diversity of all God's people. I support the ordination of women to all Orders of Ministry.

Synod's work is far broader than just the large gatherings and much of the stuff that makes a real difference in local ministry takes place in committees. I have served on the Standing Committee (which oversees the Synod) for the last ten years, I am responsible for Clergy Wellbeing and worked hard on the Clergy Conduct Measure (CCM) and the Guidelines of the Conduct of the Clergy.

I have a track record of acting with courage to advance inclusion. Work that continues in relation to LGBTQIA+ people, women and safeguarding the most vulnerable. This is an issue of justice and a missional priority which will be a significant feature of the next quinquennium if we are to re-build trust in the institution.

Over the next five years a continued commitment to implementation will require experience and wisdom on the Synod if we are to maintain momentum across a range of important issues. Lament to Action, Growing Younger, Net Zero, Wellbeing, Simplification and Financial Restructuring that focusses on the health of the local church across a spectrum of traditions, prioritising our most socio-economically deprived parishes will all be part of the legislative process that those elected must engage with. This work will not grab the headlines, but I will continue to engage assiduously and collaboratively with my colleagues as my record shows I have always done.

Lastly General Synod Members are automatically ex-officio members of the Diocesan Vacancy in See Committee, where I will be outspoken in a commitment to our Diocese remaining a broad church where all traditions are valued.

Thank you for reading my address. If you have any questions then please get in touch. I ask for your first vote and that you give priority to TOGETHER CANDIDATES:

Sarah Watson and Bryony Taylor.
