

What will the shepherd do? Hold up the green end of the stick if it's true, the red if its not true.

He will look at all the sheep who have come home sensibly and decides that he can't leave these sheep to go and find one silly little one. He decides NOT to go.

He is very cross with the silly sheep, but it is worth money so he goes to find it. He goes, but is stamping and muttering about how annoying it is.

He goes to find his young son and tells him to go. It's getting dark and the boy is scared. He looks for ten minutes, can't find the sheep so comes home.

He decides to leave it till morning and hope that no wolf comes along to attack the sheep tonight.

He locks the gate so the other sheep can't get out, he looks really worried and hurries to search everywhere for the sheep.

He's not cross with the sheep, she didn't mean to get lost. When he eventually finds her he rings all his friends to have a party
